4) Old Business:

Future interviews: Mark Simon is still trying to contact Susan Simpson who is creating three little libraries with peepholes; he recently texted her. We discussed some good locations for the three little lending libraries: Polka Dot Plaza, Van Pelt near the rec center and the small park space on Tesla by the reservoir. Michael will write Salome Jens a note to try to set up an interview. Mark mentioned that one of her early plays, “But for Whom, Charlie”, originally performed at Lincoln Center, will be performed in LA.

5) New Business:

Proposed interviews: Terry Jackson, a Silver Lake activist and current board member of SLNC; Janet Cunningham (who is unfortunately ill currently), former SLNC board member, owner of the CASH Bar, a famous underground club in Hollywood, punk casting agent, etc.; redo interview with Mike Buhen of the Tiki-Ti (Michael); Echo Park Machine Project/Echo Park Film Center.
